Bosch extends range of social alarms with launch of CareWatch

Bosch Security Systems has launched a new social alarm peripheral in the form of a wristwatch, which has a wireless transmitter in the clock case and a discreet alarm button in case of an emergency.

The CareWatch offers an alternative to the wrist transmitters and can be used effectively in conjunction with the New Bosch HTS52 CarePhone as a social alarm solution. It is also designed to work as part of the Bosch NurseCall system.

With the combination of the transmitter and the alarm button, the CareWatch is ideally suited for those people being cared for, in retirement and care homes, in sheltered accommodation facilities and hospitals or in the safety of their own home.

The watch is watertight and meets the CE Standard as well as the European Standard (EN50134-2) for social alarm systems. Periodic automatic wireless test notifications ensure maximum security. The Carewatch can be worn as a wristwatch with leather strap, which is easily replaceable, or as a medallion with an adjustable cord. The radio module's battery can be easily replaced by the operator.
