The IP Camera 200 Series from Bosch

Protect and monitor your business today. The IP Camera 200 Series from Bosch gives you the convenience of a complete surveillance system right out of the box. No DVR or PC is required. Simply take the camera out of the box, install it, and it's operating straight away.

Our new family of standalone IP cameras now contains two models, the IP camera 255 and the IP camera 225. They bring sharp, clear colour images into the realm of small businesses, offering an all-in-one professional surveillance system to meet your everyday requirements.

Helping to reduce costs further, the IP Camera 200 Series uses the latest H.264 compression standard that cuts storage demands by up to 30% compared to MPEG-4.
