

Local Football Team gets Kitted Out

After approaching local businesses for sponsorship, Valspar Football Club has successfully gained vital support from Bosch Security Systems.

Valspar Football Club in South Ayrshire plays in the West of Scotland Youth Football League. It is a strong club with a total of 10 teams. The 15 players from the mixed squad of Under 8s is receiving full tracksuits from Bosch, and the players are also receiving kit bags from Optical Outlet, a local optician.

Commenting on the sponsorship the Team's Manager, Ryan Mitchell said: "We are delighted to have Bosch sponsoring us and providing tracksuits for the team. It is very hard to receive sponsorship for this kind of age group as they aren't playing competitively so, if it wasn't for companies like Bosch, children's football would struggle to survive. However, with the right kind of support we can give children the opportunity to develop their football skills as well as promoting self-discipline and physical fitness."
